Bio

As a self-taught and versatile professional, I have a decade of experience in design and 3 years in web development. My background in architecture and engineering provides a unique perspective to the development process, enabling me to combine creativity with technical expertise. With a keen focus on end-users, I am passionate about Creative UI and DevOps, and adept at bridging the gap between tech and non-tech stakeholders. Still, my main advantage is my general understanding of DevOps issues and my ability to solve some of them.
